“Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing, Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing,” “Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing, Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing,”

Plain-tive-ly he'd croon, _____ To a Yaa-ka Hu-la maid-en, — 'neath the Hick-y Du-la Tho' the clouds are gray, _____ You can hear a maid-en sing-ing, — To her sweetheart ev'ry moon.

day.

“Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing, Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing,” Morn-ing, night and noon; _____ “Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing, Jing - a - Bu - la - Jing - Jing,” When the moon beams play; _____

— He was al-ways ser-e - nad - in', — with that Hick-y Bu-la tune. — He set her lov-ing
— She hears wedding bells a-ring - ing, — In a Jing-a-Bu-la way. — She sighs up to the heart a-flame, then tried to say "good-bye;" — And just be-fore the part-ing came_ he skies a-bove, Each time his song is sung, — "I'm like his Uk - e - le - le now_ He heard her soft-ly sigh; — "Jing - a - Bu - la-Jing-Jing-Jing, — Jing - a - Bu - la-Jing."

left us both un-strung; — Jing - a - Bu - la-Jing-Jing-Jing, — Jing - a - Bu - la-Jing."

Chorus

"When you're a - way I'll be won-der-ing — How man-y more will hear you sing — That lov-in' 'Jing-a-Bu-la-Jing-Jing-Jing' Now don't for-get all you're prom-is-ing — You say you're com-ing back to Hon-o-Oh! you can give a-way your dia-monds You're gon-na keep a-way from danc-ers, lu-lu with the ring, May-be in the win-ter, may-be in the spring; To a Hu-la Hu-la, give a-way your pearls, Give a-way your kisses, to the oth-er girls But you can start in pray-ing, dressed in shredded wheat, Hu-la Hu-la danc-ers, nev-er movetheir feet; I know what you're made of that's a lot of bul-la; Jing-a-Bu-la-Jing-Jing-Jing!" Jing!"

 if I catch you play-ing; 'Jing-a-Bu-la-Jing-Jing-Jing!' When you're a- Jing!"
 that's why I'm a-fraid of; Jing-a-Bu-la-Jing-Jing-Jing!" Jing!"
