VOICE

Last night John-ny Green had a Pic - ture New York town as a most mys-ter-i-ous dream Down Broadway with their tom-toms drumming He saw a mil-lion can-nibals com-ing great big can-nibal isle - Lots of folks would be tak-ing chances To see them do their can-nibal dan-c-es

Hu - la maidens fled as they captured av-ry ca - fe With the can-can dance the can-nibals came to I'd be cur-ious too just to see that wonder-ful view Still I'd ra-ther be in Kan - ka-kee than

drive the Hula-hul-a a - way. Al-though't was all a dream I won-der how't would seem. If the served up in a Can-nibal stew So while I like Broad-way I think I'd stay a - way.

CHORUS

Can-canny, can-canny can nibals captured New York town, their can-canny dance would turn old Broadway up-side down- Just imagine if the ladies' styles were set by a Queen from the Fi-ji Isles. What a big sen-sa-tion

Just use your i-ma-gin-a-tion With a can-canny can-nibal chef in each ca-fé They could serve a chicken ev-ry day— a diffrent way Then ev-ry lit-tle can-canny, can-canny can-nibal would get his lit-tle tum tum-my, tum tummy tummy full If they captured New York town. If the town.
