VOICE

I've seen fel - lows bit - ten by the love - bug be - fore, — But I've seen sil - ly peo - ple act - ing sil - ly be - fore, — But

p

none were half so smit - ten as the fel - low next door, —
none so sil - ly, as this sil - ly Wil - lie next door, —

Ukulele Arr. by MAY SINGHI BREEN

4

He keeps talk - ing to him - self all day,
When you say, "Hel - lo, how have you been?"

This is all he ev - er seems to say.
He just an - swers with a sil - ly grin.

CHORUS

I care for her, — She cares for me, —
I care for her, — She cares for me, —

p-f

We're just as hap - py as lov - ers can be,
We're just as hap - py as birds in a tree,

When we're in the park, we walk for hours,
I like her because she's not a "smart - ty"

Pay - ing no at - ten - tion to the flow - ers,
She's the life and death of ev - 'ry part - y,

Out on the lawn, — We car - ry on, —
We nev - er fight, — She's al - ways right, —

Un - til it's time — to go home, — When I let her have — my own way, — When she says "Hon - ey, hold my mon - ey," it's plain to see, — That I say "Yes," she an - swers, "No," so it's plain to see, — That

I care for her, — and she cares for me. —
 I care for her, — and she cares for me. —

PATTER

I like cof - fee, I like tea, I like her 'cause she likes me. She Her old man is ver - y old, worth a mil - lion so I'm told.
 She's a cof - fee hound, I'll say, twen - ty sauc - ers ev - 'ry day.

plays a Uk - u - le - le too. What an eye for mu - sic.
 And he has an aw - ful cold; How I love her fa - ther.
 Nev - er drinks it from the cup, The spoon gets in her op - tic
