Till ready

I want to He doesn't tell you all a-bout a cer-tain per-son, — I mean a - bout a man who nev - er needs re - ev - en know the meaning of a stead - y, — For new sweet mam-mas you can bet he's al - ways hears - in', — For play - in' the part, — of a fick - le vamp - in' read - y, — He'll love 'em one day, — then he'll bid each one "good fool, — 'Cause as a rule. — He meets a gal and just as soon as she's a bye" — With - out a sigh. — You've sure - ly heard of Mis - ter Heinz's fif - ty -

"gon - er" — He's sure to have an - oth - er one a - round the cor - ner, — Who sev - en, — Well, Dan - ny's got that man - y mam - mas plus e - lev - en, — He'll swears that he's true, But be - tween me and you, - He's true to quite a few. _____

 treat 'em so nice, They are in par - a - dise, - Then he'll turn cold as ice. _____

Chorus

That's Two-Time Dan, - He's just a two-time man, - He falls in p-f love with brand new mam-mas ev - 'ry day. - And there ain't one time when, - He does - n't two-time them, - He's got a vamp - in' eye, - A gent - le touch, - I'm ask - in' did you ev - er hear of an - y - thing such? He gets his dues, - 'Cause breach of prom - ise blues, - Nev - er knew, - What it meant to be true, -

Are tak - in' all of Two - Time Dan - ny's ones and twos. - He's like a ba - by when with some old toy he's through. -

When he was young I heard he ev - en was worse, - Down at the track he won some dough on a horse, -

Folks say he two - timed his nurse, - That doub - le - cross - in', ap - ple sauc - in'
By the name of Doub - le Cross, - That wom - an boss - in', mon - ey toss - in' man called Two Time Dan. That's Dan. man called Two Time Dan. Dan.
